Karen F. Moore of Topsham, VT, 59, died suddenly after a short battle with cancer on June 29, 2015. She was born on April 21, 1956 to Helen and Raymond Moore in Stamford, Connecticut. She attended Stamford Public and High School. She always cared for people. At a young age she started babysitting and then later she worked as a receptionist at a pediatrician's office, and as a switch-board operator in Connecticut. She moved with her sole-mate Donald (Donnie) Jones to Corinth, Vermont to be closer to Donnie's children. After moving to Vermont she became a care-giver. While she enjoyed eating out, going for car rides, dogs and other animals, she had a true passion for knitting and loved her yarn. She was a part of many different knitting groups over the years. She thoroughly enjoyed knitting for her close friends and could make beautiful sweaters, scarves, afghans, and was known for her socks. She enjoyed spending time with Donnie's granddaughter Shania Thurston, and good friends Tucker & Sawyer (Peeps) Sweet. She was predeceased by one brother, Kevin Moore, her parents, and Donnie Jones. She is survived by a niece Ellen Perry of Florida; a cousin Ellen Kapusta of Connecticut; a half-brother Chris Moore of California. She also leaves behind many close friends who will miss the caring, kind hearted person she was. Her close friends she left in Connecticut Brenda Manjuck and Joy Frangione Kelley; and in Vermont Donnie's children Denise and husband Shane Thurston of Corinth and Dennis Jones and longtime friend Karen DuBois of Topsham; Donnie's granddaughter Shania Thurston and special friends Jerome, Sonya, Tucker & Sawyer (Peeps) Sweet of Topsham; Maxine Slack of Corinth and many other very close friends.
